A Missing Classmate

Candy was born in mainland China. She came to Hong Kong in February this year. Although she joined the second term, her nice personality quickly won her a lot of friends. Among them, Jane is most willing to help Candy with her English homework.

As a clever and hardworking girl, Candy could get used to her school life in Hong Kong very soon. She even made great progress in the test in May and became the star student of the class.

Last Thursday, Candy was absent from school. Miss Chan called Candy's dad, but he said that Candy had gone to school. All classmates were questioned, but none of them had seen Candy in the morning. Therefore, Miss Chan reported the case to the police. All classmates felt uneasy that day. Teachers and the headmaster were worried about Candy too. The whole school prayed for her at lunch. However, there still wasn't any news about the missing Candy when the school finished at three o'clock.

At long last, the evening news reported that Candy was found. She was sitting outside a restaurant on Lamma Island alone. However, she was too scared to tell what had happened.
