Zoo Café

Yesterday, I went to a café in Yuen Long with Kitty. It is called Zoo Café. It is not an animal café so we could not see the real animals. But we could see many cute animal dolls and posters there. The café has three areas: Green Jungle, Blue Ocean and White Ice. Each area has different decorations and different menus. Our table was at the Green Jungle.

The food in this café is very special. I ordered a King Set. I got a Jungle Salad, a Tigerice and a glass of Lionade. There was a cartoon tiger face on my rice, it looked so cute! And my drink was a glass of lemonade with a scoop of orange ice cream on it. The shape of ice cream was like a lion's head so this drink was called Lionade.

Kitty ordered a Wild Set. I loved her dessert, Giracakes! It was some pancakes and the caramel made the pancakes like the pattern on giraffe's body. Her Mushoooooup was good, too. It was mushroom cream soup. And her main dish was bakes potatoes in a wild cat shape. The dish had the same name as hers.

We loved this café and we will go there again next week. we want to try the Penguin Set in White Ice area.

Think about ...

- (1) Name three restaurants that you like the best.
- (2) Do you have any special experience when dining out in a restaurant? Is it good or bad?

Warm Up Reading

Read the following reviews on a restaurant called Café de Paris and answer the questions.

Selina Cheung

I went to Café de Paris for dinner with my 5-year-old son yesterday and I swear I will never go there again. The café allows dogs in a dining environment! That's ridiculous! There were many French words on the menu that I think most customers can't pronounce. And this café does not have a kid's set so I had to buy my son an expensive burger set without toys! It took forever waiting for our meal. And when I summoned a waiter, I saw a girl's name on his name tag - Mary! I have no idea why this café is hiring such strange person. There was 10% service charge in the bill and I didn't understand why I should pay extra money for such terrible service!

I had a special dining experience in Café de Paris with my husband yesterday. This is a French restaurant with warm decorations that made us feel as we were in France and they even have menu in French version. This café allowed us to bring our dog inside to enjoy the meal with us. Customers with their pets will be arranged a table in pet zone, in order to avoid disturbing other customers. It was worth waiting for half an hour for the food because all meals were freshly made and tasted delicious. I will recommend this café to all my friends and people who want to dine out with their pets.

The following is an introduction of Café de Paris on its homepage. Complete the introduction by filling in the blanks using the correct words from the above reviews. Write one word on each blank.

Skills Plus

How much

vs

How many

When we talk about quantity:

How much + uncountable nouns	How many + countable nouns
Examples: A: I want some milk. B: How much milk would you like? A: I would like three cartons of milk.	Examples: A: I want some books. B: How many books would you like? A: I would like two books.

When we talk about price, we use 'how much'.

In this case, we can use 'how much' with both singular or plural nouns.

Examples:

- How much is that painting?
- How much are those shoes?
- How much does it cost?

Warm Up Reading

Think about ...

- (1) What will you say to salesperson or shop assistant when you do shopping?
- (2) How to be a polite customer?

Read the diary of Barbara, a shop assistant in a supermarket, and answer the questions.

Dear diary,

This is my first working day. The customers were terrible.

In the morning, a woman came to complain that our water was sparkling. I told her the 'water' she bought was soda and brought her a bottle of water. Her son just drank the water immediately. They haven't pay for it yet! When I tried to stop him, I heard some weird sound from the shoe area so I rushed to that area. When I arrived, I saw a man trying a pair of shoes and there were many shoes of the same design. I asked him what he was looking for. He told me that the shoes displayed on the shelf did not fit him so he took the shoes from the drawer under the shelf and tried to find the right size. I helped him to find the size that fit him but he said he did not like the colour and just left. I had to tidy up the area and pack more than sixteen shoes he took out!

In the afternoon, an old lady came to buy a $68 cup. But she refused to pay $68 because she thought it did not worth it. I recommended some cheaper cup to her but she insisted that she liked the colour and design of the $68 cup. She only got $50 cash and did not have a credit card. I told her that she could not buy that cup. She got angry and made a complaint. Then my manager got angry at me.

I was helpless. I wish tomorrow will be a better day.
