Section ATenses

Read the story about Rachel, a poor secretary, and fill in the blanks with correct forms of verb. The first one has done for you as an example. (15% @1%)

William Wong (1) was (be) a very bad-tempered man. He always (2) shouted (shout) at people. His staff hated him. His secretary, Rachel, had the worst time. She had to (3) put (put) up with him all day, and he was often very rude to her.

"I (4) do not know (not know) how you put up with him all day," one of her friends in the office said. "One day, I (5) will teach (teach) him a lesson," Rachel said. "I (6) will make (make) him look very foolish in front of everyone."

A few weeks later, Rachel (7) spoke (speak) to her friend again. "I (8) have got (get) an idea," she said, "but you must (9) help (help) me." She told her friend her idea. "That's a great idea," her friend said. "We (10) will do (do) it tomorrow. I (11) will wait (wait) until the office is quiet, then everybody (12) will hear (hear) you speak to him."

The next morning, William Wong's phone (13) rang (ring). Rachel answered the phone as usual. "Just (14) wait a minute, please," Rachel said. She turned to William Wong. "Excuse me. Mr Wong, I think there's a call for you," she said. William shouted. "Think? You're not paid to think!"

"Well, sir," Rachel said, "the caller (15) did not ask (not ask) you by name. He just said, 'Is that bad-tempered old fool in the office?'"

Section B
